A Great Mistake.

It is a common and a great mistake for people to run their buggies or automobile year after year without having it repainted. It is even a greater mistake to have it improperly done. The purpose of paint is to protect the vehicle and improve the appearance of it. Poor painting may improve appearances a little but it will not protect it from the ravages of the weather.

We do this work properly, using the same material and workmanship as on our fine new buggies. We dress top, curtains, aprons, dash and shaft leathers, overhaul and tighten the buggy generally.

We turn them out like new. The price of repainting the regular pane seat buggy is $10. Try us. THE M. F. CARROLL & SONS CO., adv Hillsboro, Ohio.

Memoir.

Martha Henley, daughter of John Henley and Matilda Cox Henley, was born in Leesburg, Ohio, in a house standing on the lot where the residence of B. L. Sanders now stands, on February 25, 1833, and died at her residence, Maple Shade Farm, near New Vienna, at 9 o'clock on the evening of February 14, 1913, being 79 years, 11 months and 14 days old.

In a log house standing almost upon the identical spot where Fletcher Vanpelt now resides, on January 19, 1856, Martha Henley and Charles Turner were united in marriage and immediately moved to Staunton, Fayette county, Ohio, and it was at this place where Harriet A., now Mrs. W. A. Teter, their only child, was born.

After a residence of about 9 years in Staunton, Mr. and Mrs. Turner returned to Leesburg, where they resided until the year 1900, when they removed to the farm where Mrs. Turner lived until the day of her death.

In our language there is no nobler name applied to woman than "mother", and there is no one to whom this title more fully applied than to Mrs. Turner. To her large circle of friends and acquaintances she was lovingly known as "Mother Turner."

A woman of the old-fashioned home-loving age, yet she entered fully into all the plans for the pleasure and enjoyment of the young and with the deepest sympathy for the care and afflictions of those who were older.

During the greater part of the time that "Mother and Pappy" Turner, as they were lovingly known, resided in Leesburg, Mr. Turner was engaged in the buying and shipping of cattle and it was necessary for him to employ a number of young men or boys to assist him. These boys were taken into her heart and "mothered" almost as if they were her own. There are a number of them living to whom the life of the departed has been an inspiration and who owe to her many of the good qualities that they possess, and if we who are left to mourn this dearly loved woman can leave behind us such a heritage of true worth and nobility, we may well feel that we can approach the grave "not as the galley slave, but as one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

To those who knew and loved mother best, this occasion is not as sad as one might think because there is left to us a memory of beauty, of love and joy that will remain, in the years that are to come, as the fragrance of flowers.

During her last illness, the patience and fortitude of Mother Turner was remarkable even while suffering severely. She was always fearful of causing those caring for her unnecessary trouble, and for those faithful ones there was always the pleasant smile or silent pressure of the hand. Those who were privileged to know and be closely connected with Mother Turner in her home life were privileged indeed, and their names are legion who will rise up and call her blessed.

"I suppose your children all take lessons in dancing?" "Yes," replied Mr. Growcher, "but they don't need them. What people want nowadays is lessons in keeping quiet for reasonable periods of time."—Washington Star.

Let's Talk Chicken a Little.

Cyphers Incubators and Brooders don't need any talk. Their merits are too well known everywhere. We have them in stock and are glad to tell you about them if you will come to see us.

The little chicks are the important part of the poultry business, and we must commence with the laying stock to get good strong livable chicks.

At this time of the year the hens do not get bugs and insects, so we must supply a substitute. This we can do with CYPHERS BEEF SCRAP—nothing better on the market and is made expressly for poultry. Put up in 100 lb bags at $3.40 per 100 or 4c by the pound.

CYPHERS LAYING MASH is a balanced ration of ground grains, blood meal and alfalfa, ready mixed for hopper and wet mash feeding in 100 lb bags $2.25 or 2 1/2c lb.

Exercise is absolutely necessary. For this we want CYPHERS SCRATCHING FOOD, cracked and whole grain mixture in 100 lb bags $2.25.

CYPHERS SHORT CUT ALFALF 95 per cent. pure in 100 lb bags $2.35. Oyster shell, grit and charcoal should be kept by them all the time.

For the baby chicks we have CYPHERS CHICK FOOD. A complete food for young chicks up to 6 weeks of age. No other grain ration being required, 100 lb $2.30.

We keep a good line of poultry supplies. Thermometers, Food Hoppers, Drinking Fountains, Grit and Shell Boxes, Poultry Powders, Louse Killer, Napcreol, Lice Paint, Leg Bands, Etc.
